

Airport Businesses Won't Add to Smog, Commissioners Report

By BETTY MITCHELL
DA 6-438

Proposed businesses on airport property will not be of a type which will add to the area's smog problem, Airport Commissioners Jack E. White and Robert Jahn assured the Pacific Hills Homeowners Assn. at their recent meeting. Some ideas about the development of the airport were given those in attendance. Landscaping with an eye to beautifying the airport is also being considered, they said.

The Homeowners were also informed about the circulation of a petition by residents concerned about the Madison St. ditch. With another rainy season approaching, residents are concerned about flooding.

Officers for the coming year will be elected at the next meeting.

Dorothy Bebbing, of Winlock Dr., is now home from Hawthorne Community Hospital where she underwent major surgery. She is doing well.

Due to an unfortunate accident, Mrs. Ethel McLeod, of Cricklewood St., is now on the sick list. She slipped and fell while working.

Two of the younger set had birthday parties this last two weeks. The first was a party in honor of Jimmy Nannery's fifth birthday. What a thrill his little guests had when they attended his "space patrol" party at the Nannery residence on Danaha St. A novel bit of fun was had by the guests when they were given materials and told to make their own masks. The eye-catcher of the afternoon was a cake decorated with space ships. Each guest received a plane as a favor, and then sat down to ice cream cones, cake and punch. Little space patrolers for the afternoon were Mike and Cass Russek, Billy Mitchell, Eugene Joslin, Johnny and Barbara Solner, Charles Gregory, Diane Munn, Pamela Freels, Rita, Diana, and Donna Weigley, Tony Merrill, and cousins Rena and Nancy Ogden, of Manhattan Beach.

The other birthday party on Danaha St., at the home of little Tommy Gregory who celebrated his seventh birthday in fitting manner. His party was done in Halloween theme and was held in the family-decorated garage. Skeletons and witches, jumped and glided 'round the walls watching the young guests bob for apples and pin the tail on the donkey. The party was complete with candy, popcorn, noisemakers, ice cream cones and cupcakes. All twenty young guests agreed the party was a great success.

Guests from Oklahoma City are visiting at the E. L. Dollar home on Madison St. They are Peggy Caynar and her daughters, Nancy and Susan. While here they will also spend time visiting with other relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Al Langston, of Danaha St.

Anticipating was made more pleasant for Mrs. Betty Myers on Oct. 8, when she was guest of honor at a stork shower held at the Cricklewood St. home of Mrs. Dorothy Quandt. The shower was held in the Quandt's rumpus room, with 14 guests attending. Bringing lovely gifts were Rowena Menger, Marjio McMillan, Doris Vellner, Dorothy Simpkins, Harriet Wingard, Gloria Roche, Daphne Wilson, Frances Castell, Rose Butcher, Claire Gall, Lorraine Schalloek, and Marie Morr. Daphne Wilson was co-hostess. focal point of the evening was a beautifully decorated cake done in white with pink rosebuds and a pink parasol centered the table on which reposed a huge white stork around which the gifts were heaped. The napkins were folded as diapers with small gold safety-pins when the ladies enjoyed cake, ice cream, and coffee.

After several years serving our community, Rev. Andrew Duty of the Walteria Baptist Church has given announcement that he plans to leave Walteria by Nov. 14. He and his wife and two children have not as yet made any definite plans for the future.

The Walteria Business Women's Club has now completed its first year, and is looking back on a year that has seen their club grow, and grow, and grow.

They are now carrying out their membership invitation for the next year. Their last meeting, at which their husbands were honored guests, was held at Nickel's Ranch with a potluck dinner and a life guard film being shown on the program for the night.

The first meeting of the Walteria PTA was held on Thursday evening with over 70 parents present for the gathering. Although the planned speaker was unable to attend, a very interesting program was presented. The fourth grade did an exhibition of folk dancing. Teachers were introduced and carnivals reports were given. Kindergarten mothers hosted.
